Two Nazi Towns North Of Aachen Taken By Yanks

Furious Fighting East Of

ALLIES TIGHTEN GRIP ON AACHEN

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Oct. 17.—Two more German villages north of encircled Aachen fell today to mud-spattered Doughboys of the American First Army while some of the most fur- ious fighting of the war raged east of the flaming city where Nazi command- ers struggled to prevent a breakthrough on the road to Cologne.

A front-line dispatch received by Reuters news agency said the Americans surged through the towns of Richterscheid and Kolscheid above Aachen as they tightened their grip around the gutted enemy bastion.

Later the Nazi propaganda outlets admitted a gain of "a few hundred yards" by American troops southwest of Aachen above Wurselen and Bardenberg.

Fiercest Battle

To the east, probably the fiercest battle ever fought on German soil raged between reinforced enemy hordes and American armored units threatening the direct route into Cologne.

The bitter clash between United States First Army forces and the Germans occurred at Verlautenheld, about two and one-half miles

Donation Day for ingathering of nesday, October 25.

It is evident some people do not know the correct use of the flag. Pa Newc observes that instead of being taken in by sundown, some flags are left out all night.

Street department employees are gathering leaves from streets. They are required to keep the thoroughfares clean and in a passable condition. However, no leaves are being hauled from private property.

From the number of packages mailed to men and women in overseas service from New Castle in the past couple of weeks, most every one of those in this service will receive many packages in the holiday period. With approximately 50,000 packages sent, it can be seen that some of the men and women in service will have a multitude of packages to open, if they get there on time.

Leaf collection in many parts of Pennsylvania will not reach its usual high standard of beauty this fall, outdoor enthusiasts were reminded by Dr. Henry W. Popp, professor of biology at the Pennsylvania State College. Pointing out that color changes depend somewhat on the weather, Dr. Popp explained that a series of rainy days following a period of hot, dry weather—such as occurred in many parts of Pennsylvania this year—is not conducive to good leaf coloration. The most beautiful and varied leaves, he added, are produced by sunny days and cool nights. The state's best coloration, he said, will be found in the northern tier counties.

Correspondent Gives Description Of Scene Inside City Of Aachen

By LEE CARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

AACHEN, Oct. 17.—American troops today occupy a large part of the smoldering ruins of the cathedral city of Aachen.

There is house-to-house fighting through the gutted handsome homes and fashionable apartment buildings as well as through the crushed little shops of the poorer districts which have been turned into red-streaked gray rubble.

Dead Germans are sprawled and huddled everywhere, piled against sund-bagged basement windows which once were machine-gun nests and curled stiffly in shattered doorways.

Silence and utter devastation hangs in the streets and flaps from sagging windows.

Hungry, shell-shocked horses canter up the alleys and down the debris-choked avenues and poke their frightened muzzles through shell holes in the doorways of ruined buildings.

Fear crazed dogs skitter along the streets barking at nothing and a few dirty chickens peck around in the shambles.

Water Mains Broken

In the principal streets of the city muddy water runs through from scores of opened mains. The streets are covered with holes the Germans used as sniper and machine-gun positions.

Tangles of wire and cables, broken lampposts, bricks and glass are mixed with garbage, household possessions, clothes, clocks, plumb-

WAS CROSSING ROAD
TO PICK UP RIDE

Benjamin F. Jenkins, aged 82 years, of Wilmington avenue extension, R. D. 3, was instantly killed when struck by an auto driven by Miss Clara Mae Glenn of R. D. 3 in front of Mr. Jenkins' home, just beyond the Glenmore school, Wilmington road, about a quarter of a mile beyond the city limits, at 6:35 o'clock this morning.

Miss Glenn, who was enroute to her work at the Shenango Pottery, told Pennsylvania Motor Patrolman
F. J. Norris and Deputy Coroner
Peter Rupp that she did not see Mr.
Jenkins, who was wearing dark clothing, until she was almost on top of him, and swerved her car to try and avoid hitting him. It was still dark. He was struck by the right fender of the car, however, and knocked to the highway, sustaining compound fractures of both legs and injuries to the head.

Euroto To Work

Mr. Jenkins, who was an employe of the Johnson Bros. company, was accustomed to cross the road at this time each morning, to wait for a fellow worker, who took him to work, and it is believed might have thought that Miss Glenn's car, approaching in the distance, was the driver coming for him and consequently hurried.

Miss Glenn summoned an ambulance and also notified the Pennsylvania motor police. On finding
Mr. Jenkins was dead, the coroner's

Super-Bombers Smash Formosa For Third Time

U. S. Forces Seeking To Paralyze Striking Power
Of Japanese Base

JAP FLEET FAILS TO ENTER BATTLE

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—American Super-Fortress bombers struck for the third time today against Formosa as army and navy planes moved to paralyze the striking power of that formidable Japanese base guarding the approaches to the Philippines and China.

No details were immediately available about the new B-29 raid on Formosa. It was the third assault in four days by the giant American bombers.

Meanwhile, Admiral Chester W.
Nimitz from Pearl Harbor reported that only two medium sized U. S.
warships suffered torpedo damage
while Admiral William F. Halsey's powerful Third Fleet smashed at Formosa with carrier planes.

Jap Fleet Flees

The Pacific fleet announcement disclosed that units of the Japanese fleet were sighted in the Formosa area but they fled without going into battle after discovering the strength of the American task force.

The Jap fleet apparently had been listening to Tokyo propaganda claims that land-based planes had sunk or damaged 37 American warships.

The communique said:
"Japanese fleet units were sighted
approaching the area in which U. S.

Final Rush Of Yule Mailing Breaks Record

Greatest Volume Of Parcel
Post Matter Ever Handled
Here Noted On Closing Day

SERVICEMEN FROM HERE TO FARE WELL

If Uncle Sam can find enough ships to carry the tremendous volume of Christmas packages which have been mailed out to the men and women in service, G. I. Joe and G. I. Jane, serving overseas, will get more than a well-filled stocking at Christmas time.

In the past month, 105 tons of Christmas mail for overseas, a total of 46,900 packages, has been dispatched from the New Castle post office. Multiply this by every community in the United States and one can gain some idea of what conditions must be like at New York and San Francisco, from which the bulk of the mail for the men in service flows overseas.

Huge Volume

It means that every man in service from the New Castle area will average around six packages at Christmas time.

Yesterday's mailing climaxed a month set aside for the mailing of packages to those in service overseas, and the amount handled was almost double that of the best day previously noted. It required five windows to handle the volume during the rush hours, and the day's yield at the uptown post office was 359 sacks, which average 20 packages per sack, for a total of 6,400 packages.

During the month's period, 40,500 packages were received at the main post office and 6,400 at the Seventh Ward post office, which was just as busy in proportion as the uptown office.

Japanese Fleet Avoids Battle With U. S. Fleet

Admiral Nimitz Reveals
That Japanese Claims
Are Pure Fabrications

HUGE DAMAGE IS SUFFERED BY JAPS

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 17.—Admiral Chester W.
Nimitz revealed today that units of the Japanese fleet were sighted by American warships operating in the western part of the Philippines sea but that the enemy warships in the face of overwhelming United States sea-power avoided an engagement and retired to their bases.

Nimitz revealed for the first time that Jap fleet units were sighted during the week-long action in Formosa and Philippine waters and gave the lie to enemy claims of huge American losses in warships and personnel.

No serious damage to fleet
The Pacific fleet chief said that from Oct. 10 up to the time of the announcement of his communique early today that no damage of any consequence had been done to Empire States battleships on carriers.

Two medium-sized American ships, however, were hit by aerial torpedoes and are now retiring from enemy waters. Personnel casualties on the two damaged American craft were small, Nimitz said.

Nimitz failed to reveal when the Japanese fleet units were sighted or in what strength they appeared.
There also was no indication in the Pacific fleet chief's report as to whether Admiral William F. Halsey's powerful third fleet operating in enemy waters has broken off carrier-based aircraft smashes at Jap defenses.

The possibility that the smashes were continuing was seen in the

Heavy Fighting In Po Valley On Road To Bologna

All-Out Defense Of Italian
City By Nazis Slows Fifth
Army Progress

HEAVY ARTILLERY AIDING DEFENSE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Oct. 17.—Heavy fighting was in progress today in the Po valley on the road to Bologna where Field Marshal Albert Kes-seler's all-out defense of the Italian city has slowed progress of the advancing Fifth Army.

German resistance grew stubbornly fanatic after the capture of Livorno, a town ten miles south of Bologna, but American forces slugged into the Nazi forces to push forward 1,000 yards on the Florence-Bologna highway.

Rough Road

Frequent German counter-attacks and employment of smashing artillery barrages made it a rough road to travel.

Heavy concentrations of battery fire retarded advances of the Fifth Army and, along with the counter-attacks, made the situation uncertain at the Bologna approaches.

In a 12-hour period, the heavy
Nazi field guns laid down 1,000

State Of Civil War Is Reported In Hungary Now

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Hungary was reported today to be in a state of civil war after pro-Nazi elements seized control in Budapest in an effort to keep the tottering satellite nation in the war on the side of Germany.

The reported outbreak of civil war, a Stockholm dispatch to the London Daily Express said, resulted in fighting in Budapest where the new government of Count Ferenc Szalasi declared martial law.

A Budapest radio announcement said that a curfew had been proclaimed in the Hungarian capital.

Admiral Nicholas Horthy, deposed regent, was said to be still besieged in the royal palace which remains in the hands of troops loyal to him.
A fight between Horthy troops and supporters of the Fascist Arrow Cross for control of public buildings near the palace was reported going on.

The coup in which Szalasi seized power in Budapest was announced by the capital's radio transmitter.
The establishment of the new government by Arrow Cross party men came less than 24 hours after Admiral Horthy had announced his intention to seek an armistice with the Allies.

Nimitz Warns Victory Road Will Be Rough

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(INS)—
News of the smashing American successes in the great sea and air offensive in the Burma-Philippines area was tempered today by a warning from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz that the road to victory in the Pacific will be "long and rough."

The Japanese have lost 73 ships and 670 warplanes since October 9, and an average of more than 10 ships and 100 aircraft a day in the last six days, the commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet announced, but he predicted "many months of warfare," due to numerous problems, notably the logistics involved in the shipping of huge tonnages of supplies in the vast Pacific war theater.

In a first-hand report, broadcast direct from the area of operations to the New York Herald-Tribune forum on current problems, Nimitz said:

Wild Jap Claims Proven Untrue

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. S. Foreign Editor)

The hysterical babble with which Japanese propagandists filled the air yesterday in an attempt to deceive their people and the world into believing that a disastrous defeat had been dealt to the United States navy off Formosa found its answer today in a terse communique from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

It disclosed that once again—as on numerous occasions in the past the Japanese fleet had come into combat range of a far-prowling American battle fleet but chose instead to run away.

The siege was set and conditions perfect for a blazing slugfest but it never did come off. The Jap sailors struck for home and relied once more upon the stupidity of their friends and relatives to believe the meaningless chatter that gushed from the Tokyo radio throughout all of yesterday.

Japanese Fliers Lose Heavily In Oil Center Raids

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HQ. New Guinea, Oct. 17.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiqué disclosed today that Japanese airmen, seeking to defend Balikpapan, sustained six to one losses following the fourth heavy raid in two weeks carried out by the Allied sea force against that enemy oil center.

More Japanese planes were downed in the latest attack than any previous one, according to the communiqué, which stated 17 enemy aircraft have been shot down in contrast to the loss of 19 bombers and six fighters.

The figures covered the four smashing assaults on Balikpapan, adding that a total of 399 tons of bombs had been dropped on installations there by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney's Far Eastern Air Force.

In the latest raid, aimed at the industrial area, Kenney's bombers set off huge explosions and started great fires which sprouted 18,000-foot columns of smoke, according to MacArthur's communiqué.

Other Far Eastern Air Force raiders, meanwhile, continued to harass Japanese air fields on Mindanao Island in the Philippines, hitting San Roque and Matina airdromes in night raids.

Synopsis: shipping continued under attack by the Far Eastern bombers, dive bombers in sorties over Celebes waters being credited with sinking a 3,000-ton transport, freighter, a 1,000-ton freighter, two coastal vessels and several smaller craft.

bitter struggle which we know lies ahead in the Pacific is based merely on a desire to prevent over-confidence among the armed forces and at home.

Long Victory Road

"This is not the case. We fully expect to win, but we know the road to victory will be long and rough. The conclusion that we must expect a struggle of many months duration in the Pacific is based on facts—the facts of geography, facts of logistics and facts of available shipping tonnage."

He called for "sober thought" after victory to "creation of an international climate in which peace can live," backed by superior military power.

"The moral convictions shared by all free people must in the future have the backing of adequate armed power," Nimitz concluded. "A conviction without the means or the ability to defend it has no hope of survival."

Lt. Gen. Breton B. Somervell, commander of the Army Service Forces, likewise warned the forum's opening session of "heavier tasks ahead" in the European theater after revealing that in the first 109 days of the invasion the Allies landed 2½ million troops and 17 millions tons of supplies, munitions and vehicles—more than twice the amount General Pershing received in France during the 19 months of the first World War.

rounds of artillery fire into the Yank forward lines in the vicinity of Route 65. This concentration alone set a war-time record for the employment of German artillery.

The Eighth Army, pressing toward Bologna along the road, then, advanced on a broad front to approach the river, Pisciatello. British and Indian troops made good progress south of the road.

Greeks Drive Ahead

Greeks in the Eighth Army, stirred by news of the liberation of their homeland, paced the push in the Adriatic sector, however, by sending patrols across the still swollen Fiumicino river.

The Allied Mediterranean Air Force and naval units also were in the thick of actions, with the MAAF launching 1,900 heavy and medium bombers in a series of far-ranging raids while warships smashed two enemy convoys in the Adriatic.

Stepping up its aerial offensive in an effort to inflict the maximum of damage, the air force lashed out at strategic oil refineries, aircraft factories, marshalling yards and other targets in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

In these sorties, 19 German aircraft were destroyed. Ten of the MAAF heavy bombers and six other Allied planes are missing.

The Navy, meanwhile, disclosed a "fierce and spirited" battle lasting five hours when British light coastal forces and the two enemy convoys joined action off Vir Island, north of Dalmatian Island, on the night of October 11-12.

Shoot Down 160 Jap Planes

Covering action during Oct. 13, 14 and 15, Nimitz revealed that 160 enemy aircraft were shot down off Formosa in these three days, adding to the already huge toll of planes taken by American planes and anti-aircraft fire. In the same three days, Nimitz said American losses were five planes.

Meanwhile, the war department revealed that B-29 Superfortresses struck Formosa in a third successive smash and a previous Pacific fleet headquarters communiqué revealed preliminary reports of damage inflicted on Formosan bases in raids by American carrier-based planes.

The announcement disclosed that Tainan airfield was hard hit with seven hangars completely destroyed and five others heavily damaged. In addition, an undisclosed number of ships were sunk in Takao harbor and 30 large warehouses in the dock area completely destroyed, while airfield assembly plants at Okayama were destroyed.

JAPANESE FLEET AVOIDS BATTLE WITH U. S. FLEET

In revealing the continuing attacks on Luzon, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, threw some cold water on the fantastic "victory celebration" broadcasts from radio Tokyo that the Jap fleet was "burning" the enemy in an annihilative battle.

A round-up of Jap "victory claims" to date declared that "victory" fleet had sunk or heavily damaged 35 American warships, including 16 carriers, sunk, two battleships, sunk and three cruisers sunk. The entire unconfirmed enemy claim also listed American casualties in the engagement at 13,000, including aviation personnel.

JAPANESE FLEET AVOIDS BATTLE WITH U. S. FLEET

Admiral Nimitz, in a radio broadcast from his headquarters at Pearl Harbor last night declared that Jap losses in the past six days were 73 ships sunk and 670 planes destroyed.

"Enemy losses would have been much greater," he said "except for the scarcity of profitable targets."

"However," he declared "even as you hear my voice, the enemy is being hit by our bombs, our shells and our torpedoes."

He said that he fully "expected" the United States to win the war in the Pacific, but he concluded, "I know the road of victory is long and rough."

JAPANESE FLEET AVOIDS BATTLE WITH U. S. FLEET

Greeks in the Eighth Army, stirred by news of the liberation of their homeland, paced the push in the Adriatic sector, however, by sending patrols across the still swollen Fiumicino river.

The Allied Mediterranean Air Force and naval units also were in the thick of actions, with the MAAF launching 1,900 heavy and medium bombers in a series of far-ranging raids while warships smashed two enemy convoys in the Adriatic.

Stepping up its aerial offensive in an effort to inflict the maximum of damage, the air force lashed out at strategic oil refineries, aircraft factories, marshalling yards and other targets in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

In these sorties, 19 German aircraft were destroyed. Ten of the MAAF heavy bombers and six other Allied planes are missing.

The Navy, meanwhile, disclosed a "fierce and spirited" battle lasting five hours when British light coastal forces and the two enemy convoys joined action off Vir Island, north of Dalmatian Island, on the night of October 11-12.

east of Aachen on the approaches to the main Aachen-Cologne highway.

The battle was joined after the Germans moved up considerable supplies and reinforcements in an effort to block the route to Cologne. It appeared that the Nazis would attempt a major effort to check the American offensive.

The Nazi counter-thrust came after the Americans commenced by Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges had closed the last escape gap out of Aachen by completing a ring of encirclement at Wurselen.

The Germans attacked violently from the north and northeast yesterday and the battle raged throughout the afternoon and on through the night.

TWO NAZI TOWNS NORTH OF AACHEN TAKEN BY YANKS

Situation Well In Hand

An official spokesman at headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said it was believed that the Americans have the situation well in hand despite the fury with which the enemy struck.

East of Aachen, the Nazi DNB agency reported, American attacks and German counter-attacks, and alternating the situation has undergone no essential changes, the enemy account said.

(North of Aachen, where American pressure has increased, DNB quipped, "German troops again repulsed attacks with 'hell' and 'hell'." The Americans, according to DNB, attacked with two infantry divisions and one tank division on a very narrow front.)

Coincident with the battle at Verlautenheide, the Americans continued to encounter all types of opposition in the vicinity of Wurselen and near Oid on the outskirts of Aachen.

The Germans hurled heavy artillery and mortar fire into the ranks of the Americans.

TWO NAZI TOWNS NORTH OF AACHEN TAKEN BY YANKS

House-To-House Battling

Inside Aachen itself Yank assault units made slow progress in house-to-house fighting to clear out the remnant Nazi garrison.

International News Service correspondents reported that the Germans from the Aachen front threw a few German raiding planes dropped high explosive anti-personnel bombs in the American-held areas during the night but said there was no change in frontline positions.

Nazis kept up sporadic shelling of the American-held area. A German soldier was killed and a few killed after being overtaken by a few German tanks yesterday. The barrage was one of the most concentrated of the war, indicating that the Germans had built up their artillery strength in that sector during a recent lull.

Murky skies over the battle area curbed air support to the American ground units during the morning.

American soldiers are visible occasionally, running hunched over, or across an avenue commanded by 88 millimeter guns which are roaring. Swiftly moving jeeps streak in the direction of the cathedral, their back seat piled with ammunition and other supplies.

A Red Cross flag on a first aid station hangs sagging in a drizzle which seeps through the broken building where front line medical men set up shop.

In one house a huge Nazi flag is being used as a carpet. In the entrance of a corridor some playful GIs have been using a picture of Hitler and writing pens for a game of darts.

NEW DEAL RECORD AGAIN ASSAILED BY GOV. DEWEY

when it is "too tired and worn out to bring order out of its own chaos either at home or abroad."

"The New Deal's record at home is one long record of failure," Governor Dewey asserted. "But some people still tell us: 'We agree that the New Deal is a failure at home but its foreign policies are very good.' Let me ask you:

Any Better Abroad?

"Can an administration which is so discredited and unsuccessful at home be any better abroad?"

Can an administration which is filled with quarreling and backbiting where we can see it, be any better abroad where we cannot see it? Well, the answer to that depends even the thick wall of censorship."

NEW DEAL RECORD AGAIN ASSAILED BY GOV. DEWEY

Governor Dewey left St. Louis last night soon after his speech and he is due in Albany today. He will go to New York City tomorrow to open his drive for New York's 4½ electoral votes and, two days later, he will deliver a labor speech in Pittsburgh.

'Charges Come Home'

The GOP nominee said that President Roosevelt's charges of "falsification," flung in his initial campaign speech, have "come home to haunt him."

He challenged the White House claim that General Hershey, director of selective service, spoke only for himself and without authority, when he said that people could be kept in the Army as cheaply as an agency could be created to take care of them when they are out.

Producing a White House report on the subject by the President's uncle, Frederick A. Delano, Governor Dewey declared:

Report Made Public

"This idea of keeping men in the Army for fear that they won't get jobs after the war was in a report made public last year by Mr. Roosevelt himself. The New Deal had it in mind right along."

The present administration, Governor Dewey charged, has gathered together the "most spectacular collection of incompetent people who have held public office." Referring to feuds and bickering in Washington, which he said the President has encouraged, he asked:

"What kind of government is this that even a war cannot make it sober down and go to work? Little men rattling around in big jobs. Our country cannot afford the wasteful display of incompetence people in high places who spend their time fighting each other."

Holds Back World Recovery

Linking domestic and foreign policies, the Republican nominee asserted that "The New Deal depression in the United States was actually holding back economic recovery all over the world," that our affairs in South America, North Africa and Europe are confused, and that a host of alphabetical agencies is operating all over the globe.

Governor Dewey said the United States, to be an inspiration to the world, first must set its own house in order and achieve peace in its own government.

"That never can be done," he asserted, "by a weary and worn-out administration. It can and must be done by a fresh and vigorous administration, which will restore honesty and competence in government."

St. Louis gave the Republican nominee one of the warmest receptions of his entire campaign tour to date.

More than 35,000 persons lined the streets to greet him when he arrived from Albany yesterday morning; 15,000, an overflow crowd, jammed the hall where he spoke, and thousands more marched in an old-fashioned torch-light parade.

Pacific fleet forces have been operating in the western part of the Philippine sea, but on discovering their fighting strength unimpaired have avoided action and have withdrawn to their bases.

To Immobilize Base

The mounting fury of the aerial campaign against Formosa indicated that the American high command was seeking to immobilize that enemy base apparently in preparation for new Allied moves westward.

Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the 20th Airforce and the Army Air Forces, paid tribute to navy fliers for their assaults on Formosa by reporting that his super-fortresses met virtually no opposition in the first two raids on the island.

of Latvia. The Moscow communiqué described the actions near Riga as resulting in the capture of several towns by the two red columns driving upon the port from the west and southwest.

The communiqué, however, did not become specific in relating further actions along the northern lines, except to announce how Soviet aircraft carried out a "massed raid" upon the East Prussian town of Insterburg.

In detailing events near Riga, the communiqué supplemented the drive as "offensive actions," that resulted in capture of three ammunition dumps and piles of other military fighting stock.

"Our units are penetrating behind the German lines and are daringly attacking them," according to the Moscow report, describing the smash against the Latvian port city. About 1,500 Germans were "wiped out" in the day's fighting, it was revealed.

Russian Fleet In Action

The Russian fleet air arm also moved into action in the north, sinking three enemy transports and as many high speed barges.

In the south, the red forces joined with the Yugoslav army of liberation to enter the city of Belgrade. The Russian communiqué simply stated that the battle had begun and that 1,500 prisoners were taken on the outskirts of the Yugoslav capital.

Further north, the Soviet divisions smashed on into north Transylvania in collaboration with Romanian forces. More than 100 inhabited places fell into the allies' hands, including Bors, where an important railway station was taken.

The Moscow communiqué did not mention Hungary, where other red army forces are known to be spearheading toward the town of Debrecen.

On other sectors of the front only reconnaissance activity and fighting of local importance occurred.

RUSSIAN FORCES NOW BATTLING IN BELGRADE STREETS

according to the Moscow version, a total of 93 Nazi tanks and 53 enemy planes was destroyed or disabled during the operations of Oct. 15-16, the communiqué revealed.

Governor Dewey Has Edge in Oregon Race

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 17.—From all indications, this state is still on the political fence, with Governor Dewey having a slight edge. It could still go either way, according to those most familiar with Oregon politics.

The man who may push the state definitely into the Dewey column is popper Wayne L. Morse, dean of the University of Oregon law school before he went to serve on the War Labor Board in Washington, and now a candidate for the United States Senate. Morse is campaigning like a dervish, all over the state, making two and three speeches a day and calling for questions from the floor at the end of each talk.

Regular Republicans do not like him. They fought hard against him in the primary, when his opponent was bumbling Rufus Holman, the incumbent. With almost no money and no organization support, Morse, to the surprise of most observers, defeated Holman.

Whether they like it or not, Republican leaders have been forced to recognize that Morse is their chief asset on the ticket. Governor Dewey, when he was in the state, read the regulars a little lecture. He told them they should realize the value of men like Morse, who have the support of labor on the basis of a reputation for liberalism. The presidential candidate pointed out that Morse's value extended far beyond the boundaries of Oregon. Since he had gained something of a national reputation and his presence on the ticket impressed independents and liberals throughout the country.

After a sharp debate, the CIO, in state convention last week, endorsed Morse. A faction, representing the leadership of Harry Bridges, boss of the longshoremen, wanted to go down the line for all Democrats and no deviation from the "party line." The Bridges' faction was voted down.

Earlier, Morse received the endorsement of the AFL and the railway brotherhoods, so this makes it unanimous. The AFL, by the way, has as a condition of CIO endorsement, to repudiate Dewey. Needless to say, Morse refused.

In the light of the national lineup, the Senate race has certain comic aspects. Morse's Democratic opponent is Edgar Smith, a wealthy wheat grower and business man. On his posters throughout Oregon, he advertises himself as "a business man and a farmer."

Word has reached the Morse camp that Smith and his backers are trying to scare conservative business elements by picturing Morse as the appointed candidate of Sidney Hillman and the P. A. C. De la Riva. Smith, however, has dropped to regular Republicans, who might be interested in forking up a campaign contribution that this man Morse is a cankerous radical.

Money has been a scarce commodity at Morse headquarters. The youngest law school dean is learning about the high cost of running for public office. He spent $27,000 in his primary campaign, and part of that is still unpaid. He will have to spend at least $25,000 on the present campaign, most of it going for radio time.

Now, however, that problem has been largely taken off his shoulders. E. B. McNaughton, president of the First National Bank, a banker with a liberal slant and more political sense than most bankers, has formed a committee to raise funds for Morse.

There is another Senate contest, between Guy Cordon, Republican, who was appointed last year to the seat vacated by the death of the veteran Senator Charles L. McNary, and Willis Mahoney, Democrat. Cordon is considered an almost certain winner.

Perhaps because of the presence of Morse on the ticket, Dewey is expected to get some labor support in this state. The AFL vote, it is predicted, will divide 60-40, as compared with 75-25 four years ago.

This defection in itself might be enough to defeat Roosevelt. His majority four years ago was less than 40,000. It may be a photo finish in the race for Oregon's six electoral votes.

FACTORY MAIDEN

Maiden in the factory, cherish still your dream:
Keep your pretty fancies, spite of air and steam,
Spite of gears and ratchets, micro-gear and torch,
Dream of morning glories climbing 'round a porch;
Husband striding homeward, whistling bits of song,
When the war is over he will come along!

Maiden in the factory, never have a doubt:
All that you are dreaming time will bring about.
Give your strength to service, hands to duty's glove,
But keep your heart for children and the man you love.
Done with cruel warfare, righted what is wrong,
Then the man you wait for soon will come along.

Maiden, don't let wages be too strong a lure,
Home's your nobler purpose, all it holds is sure.
Cling to every fancy—silver things and chairs,
Shelves of shining glassware, children at their prayers,
Easter day and Christmas faithful friends to call.
Soon the dream is coming you may have them all.

It's only after a man gets rich that he discovers how many poor relations he has.

In another thirty years, it will be your turn to say: "Now, I can remember way back when..."

He was taking his physical at the induction center, and the doctor asked: "Why do you have BF6734 tattooed on your back?"
"Oh, that's not tattoo, Doctor," replied the recruit, "that's where my wife ran into me with the car when I was opening the garage doors."

Less than four percent of the people are left-handed, but the left-handers are nearly always successful.

One member of the president's cabinet has said he will resign if Dewey is elected? Oh, yeh? You and who else?

Little Archibald had sat so silent thru dinner that his parents became worried as to what was troubling him, but at last, he said: "Pater, do school teachers get remuneration?"
"Most assuredly," asserted the father.

"Then 'isn't fair?" exclaimed Archibald indignantly. "Why should the teachers get paid when the students do all the work?"

Husbands law down the law but wives usually repeal it.

If those American politicians who are so anxious to win this election were to pause and think about the thousands of flag-draped caskets of American Soldiers, Sailors and Marines being lowered into graves on foreign soil...

If they would pause and think of the millions of Americans who are daily praying for the safety of their loved ones on battle fronts...

They would perhaps realize that winning this war and a lasting peace is far too sacred a thing... far too close to the American homes and Fathers, Mothers, Wives and sweethearts... to be shunted aside by frivolous language and meaningless wise cracks.

Much Confusion In Ranks Of Leaders

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—FREQUENTLY Governor Dewey has been in his speeches that the Roosevelt Administration is a "third Administration" too weary to cope with the job at hand, much less the jobs ahead. There is considerable data to support this claim, but the Governor might, with equal justification, have charged that it is badly confused as well.

FROM THE BEGINNING of the New Deal confusion has been its outstanding characteristic, due to the nebulous nature of its ideas as well as the duplication, overlapping and conflicting character of its multitudinous boards, bureaus, commissions and agencies. Recently, however, evidence has been furnished of a new kind of confusion—a confusion among the higher officials with the closest White House relationship, a reluctance to confine themselves to their own fields, a tendency to enter other fields in which they have no excuse for intrusion.

TAKE, for example, the cases of Mr. Henry Morgenthau and Mr. Harry Hopkins. The former, as we well know, is Mr. Roosevelt's Secretary of the Treasury, which certainly would seem a fulltime job for even the most competent of men.

A few weeks ago, apparently in a state of bewilderment, Mr. Morgenthau appeared to think that he was Secretary of State, or possibly Secretary of War. Instead of Secretary of the Treasury. At any rate, he produced a plan for the post-war treatment of Germany, which was a subject altogether in the realm of the Secretaries of State and of War and with which the Secretary of the Treasury had no conceivable business whatever.

The plan was a very comprehensive one. It urged the post-war abolition of all German industry and the compulsory reduction of the German people to a nation of small farmers and farm hands.

MR. MORGENTHAU not only produced this plan but was widely reported, sold it to the President, who sent for him to come to Quebec, and seemed pleased, indeed, with the idea. It was only after Secretaries Hull and Stimson had grudgingly cleared their unshakable opposition and it had been widely denounced not only as economically unsound but as providing Dr. Goebbels with exceedingly effective propaganda, tending to prolong the war at a cost of many American lives, that Mr. Roosevelt backed away from it.

Exactly what gave Mr. Morgenthau the notion that it was his business to solve this problem has not been revealed. Nor does one know who really originated the plan of making Germany an exclusively agricultural nation.

Probably no one ever will know these things now, as the whole business has been completely ditched.

A SOMEWHAT similar case of confusion appears to have overtaken Mr. Hopkins, who, judging from his article in the current American Magazine, for which he was highly paid, is under the impression that he is Secretary of the Treasury. Perhaps, when Mr. Morgenthau reads this article, he will better understand the feeling of the unconsulted Mr. Hull and Mr. Stimson concerning his brilliant scheme for setting the great problem of what to do with Germany. Anyhow, it is quite certain that Mr. Hopkins did not clear his article with Mr. Morgenthau or Mr. Hull or even Mr. Elmer Davis through whom a year or so ago everybody was supposed to clear everything of the kind—but hardly anyone did.

IN THIS article Mr. Hopkins lays down the most comprehensive post-war economic and tax program for the country yet put forward. He urges that the excess-profits tax should be removed as speedily as possible; that depreciation rates should be permitted to vary in accord with actual capital expenditures of business; that in years when businesses make large capital outlays they be permitted to depreciate capital costs much more rapidly than now allowed; that persons earning $15 or less a week should pay no taxes direct or indirect; that individuals income-tax rates in the upper brackets must not be so high as to remove incentive for assuming risks, etc., etc.

THESE and other of Mr. Hopkins' ideas on the subject seem curiously odd and conservative for one who is a New Dealer. But what is of more interest is how Mr. Hopkins qualifies as an economist and a tax expert. Neither his career as a social worker, nor his record as administrator of the defunct WPA, nor his subsequent career as the President's closest friend, seem to provide the necessary experience for that. The only previous utterances of Mr. Hopkins on the subject of taxes was the famous statement of his that "we are going to tax, tax, tax, spend, spend, spend, elect, elect and elect."

OF COURSE, Mr. Hopkins vehemently, but most belatedly, denied he had made that statement. But it was so plausible and so true and so typical that few people believed him. Governor Dewey in a speech a few weeks ago quoted that unfortunate remark, though he failed to give Mr. Hopkins the credit which is his due. Anyhow, until the publication of this article that was the only time that can be recalled when he showed any interest in the tax question at all. Under the circumstances, how he has been able to delve to the bottom of these intricate economic and fiscal problems, coming up with all the answers, is a mystery. It would be interesting to know Mr. Morgenthau's reaction to the Hopkins plan. Both seem confused but not about the same thing.

Columnist Says Dewey's Need Photogenic Dog Suggests Cocker Spaniel To Offset Fella
Congresswoman Luce Owns Likeable Canine

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Dear Republican National Committee: Don't you think it's time you got Governor Dewey a dog? A campaign dog?

You simply can't let that little black-haired publicity hound, named Fella, steal the front pages of the press of our native land?

Maybe Governor Dewey already has a dog. If so, where is that dog? Not in a dog house all tidy and well behaved? Well, I should hope not. You ought to know by this time that a dog house is no place to keep a dog—in an election year.

You ought to know, after all these terms, that a talent "that man in the White House" has for dramatizing everything from a cigar-holder to a call on Stalin. He may be making hundreds of thousands of votes out of that little Scottie. So pull yourself together, Dear Republican Committee, and find your hero a hound.

What kind of a hound? Let's think. How would a bloodhound do? A great, fierce bloodhound, a "canis major" not to be confused with the Dog Star? But a dog, a big dog with a strong nose for sniffing out villains.

I gather from what I hear over the radio and read in the papers that it is the purpose of Governor Dewey to "turn the rascals out." Then what better aid could he have in this noble purpose than a big old bloodhound. Sort of reminds me of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

But it was the bloodhounds that were turned loose on Uncle Tom. And on Little Eva. Who might be confused with the Public No. 1? A bloodhound would not do for a candidate named Thomas.

What you really want for your candidate, Dear Republican Committee, is a dog that is photogenic. (Continued on Page Six)

The World and the Mud Puddles

THAT RE-ORGANIZATION.

President Roosevelt has announced his "plan" for demobilization of the federal government for peace-time requirements. In it there was much evidence that Governor Dewey's criticism of the jumble and confusion of New Deal agencies has been striking home.

Briefly, the President proposed in a letter to the Director of the Budget, that he prepare now for (1) liquidation of war agencies and the reassignment of such permanent or continuing functions as they possess (2) reduction of government personnel to peace footing and (3) simplification and adaptation of the administrative structure to peace-time requirements.

All of which sounds impressive until examined against the back-

RULES FOR GETTING A HUSBAND

Thousands of young women now in college naturally long for the time when the young men will return from the war, with the proper hope of finding a husband from among them.

Before these young women know it, their college education may prove a hindrance rather than a help to marriage. The bright young fellow who would have gone to college but for the war may be inclined to shun the college girl for fear her greater academic education might make him feel inferior. In some cases, however, he fortunately will return to college.

The college girl on a "date" with the soldier she might hope to marry will naturally be thinking of first, from among them, his experiences and travel. But unless she is on guard, she will soon try to bolster up her ego by talking of her college experiences and display samples of her college learning. Of course, she may not do this on purpose, but in spite of herself. Human Nature prompts one to build up one's self-esteem on feeling a bit overshadowed.

Advice To College Girl
This girl wishing to have the "dates" repeated will be wise if she avoids reference to her college experiences and to matters related to academic wisdom. On the contrary, she will busy herself at gaining further information from books about the places where the returned soldier has been and will humbly learn from the observations and experiences he relates. She will try to bring out the best in him and make him feel worthy—she will if she is really smart. This principle applies to all other cases in which a young man or vice-versa for that matter, only the demand for husbands seems to be greater now than for wives.

The psychology we have been considering is peculiarly significant in any case in which the young woman has far more academic education than the young man. It has not been so many decades, you know, since the average young man

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

You probably read about the death of Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney, famous owner of winning race horses and one of the world's wealthiest women.

When her will was filed it disclosed of millions and millions in stocks and bonds and art treasures and real estate.

And, away down on the list, was a little item leaving the preceding collection of cookbooks "to the New York Public Library."

You have undoubtedly dreamed occasionally of what you would do if you were a millionaire.

You may have been thinking of beautiful homes and yachts and trips and servants and of fine clothes and diamonds and of all the luxuries that money can buy.

What if your dream could come true?

In my early years as a newspaper reporter I specialized in interviews with celebrities and successful men and women in all walks of life.

I'll never forget a conversation more than anything else in the majority of them.

Their simplicity!

Oh, yes, there were the newly-rich who wanted to show to the world what they had accomplished.

There were the industrialists who had profited greatly by some new invention, such as the automobile, the radio, air-conditioning, the aeroplane.

There were actors and actresses suddenly sprung to fame, playwrights who had hit upon a sell-out.

Splurge At First

At first they splurged. They became human billboards, they flashed their success to the world. They had achieved an outstanding success. Spats, caire, a bright-yellow camel's hair coat with belt in the back and his mother-of-pearl buttons. He bought himself a sporty roadster, he frequented the night clubs, he had a butler and a cook and a swanky Park avenue apartment.

Last week I ran into him coming out of a cheap New York restaurant. "They have the swellest pho-knuckles in town in here," he said. The young publisher, middle-aged by now but still tremendously successful, looked almost as seedy as the fellow looking at a next-door employment agency billboard.

"For heaven's sake, Jim, why don't you buy yourself a new hat and get your pants pressed?" I asked.

"Because that hat is comfortable," he said. "I've worn it for five years and because with no crease in my pants I don't have to worry about it when I cross my legs."

"But don't you care what people think about you?" I asked him.

"Listen, my boy," he replied, "there are so many people worrying what I think about them that I don't have to worry what they think about me."

Mrs. Whitney had more than most of us ever dream of, yet for her best fun she collected cookbooks.

If you are looking for a moral in this don't, I was just thinking out loud. (Copyright, 1944, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

What People Say

International News Service: WASHINGTON.—Sen. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., "it has become increasingly clear that the administration has decided to withhold any information regarding its policies in Europe, Asia and China. The Republican party apparently is ready to aid and abet this plan of political strategy."

CHICAGO.—Sen. James E. Murray (D., Mont.) "Strenuous efforts will be made by his business to gain control of the next congress, and with a majority congress in power at Washington not only small business will be in danger but our entire American Democratic system."

NEW YORK.—Dr. Paul Popenoe, general director, American Institute of Family Relations: "Ten percent of these war marriages aren't marriages at all. I've talked with thousands of girls whose stories have a frightening similarity—once a soldier on Wednesday married him on Saturday, he left for overseas on Sunday, Tuesday she's suing him for divorce."

Claim Hitler Not Permitted To Tour Nazi Army Camps

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—German Chief Heinrich Himmler has refused to permit Adolf Hitler to tour training camps on the German people army, the London Daily Mail reported today in a story from Madrid.

Hitler was denied permission to make the tour because, for one thing, Himmler refuses to accept responsibility of protecting him, according to the Daily Mail correspondents. The Nazi triumvirate of Goering, Goebbels and Himmler, moreover, would not dare let the German public become aware of the Reichsfuehrer's physical decline that has resulted from the war.

Hitler spends his days shut up in Berchtesgaden, the dispatch reported.

ORGANIZATION OF ARTIFICIAL BREEDING UNIT PROGRESSES

Lawrence County dairymen are organizing an Artificial Breeding Unit. Progress has been made in securing co-operative membership applications covering 250 cows or over half the number considered necessary to start such a unit. Other Counties engaged in organizing similar units also report progress.

One question which many dairymen ask is "when will the unit start operation?" No definite answer can be given, as the date depends on how rapidly the remaining cattle are signed up, and now soon the bull selection committee can be organized. It is probable that the unit can start sometime this winter if a sufficient number of dairymen join the Association.

The next meeting of the committee appointed to establish the Central unit for Western Pennsylvania will be held at Clarion on October 18. At this meeting, the committee will receive reports from the various counties and will probably authorize further organization of the central unit if the counties report enough interest.

Dairymen who wish more information should see their township chairmen, whose names are listed below: J. H. Wilson, Bruce Wallace, George Kuhn, Harold Green, N. E. Sampson, R. E. Conway, Ray Marshall, Fred L. Taylor, Clarence Gardner, George Crabbe, and Merle Wilson.

ALL GRASS NEEDS FEED DURING FALL

Fall is the natural time for grass to rebuild up to 80 per cent of its root system to produce next year's crop. Fertilizer applied now increases the root system and insures a bigger crop next year. Sodds till the soil with a mass of roots so that little, if any, fertilizer is lost through leaching or erosion.

For bluegrass or triple-purpose pastures, extension agronomists of the Pennsylvania State College suggest applications of 400 pounds to the acre of 6-20-0 with manure, or 400 pounds to the acre of 0-14-47 or 0-12-12. For lawns, an application of 20 pounds per thousand square feet of either 5-10-5 or 4-12-4 is suggested.

Sodds high in legumes may benefit from an application of 25 to 40 pounds of borax to the acre, particularly if seed production is the goal next year. Boron is known to increase seed set on legumes.

STORE APPLES NOW FOR WINTER USES

Now is the time to select and give proper storage conditions to those apples to be kept over the winter. Only sound fruit, without bruises, cracks, or breaks in the skin should be considered for storing.

Proper temperature, humidity, and ventilation are the most important considerations in apple storage. Moist conditions, with about 85 per cent relative humidity, have been found best for apple storage, with the temperature kept as cool as possible, but not freezing. Continuous ventilation should be maintained if possible, and apples can be kept in slatted containers.

If shriveling is noticed, it indicates more moisture is needed in the storage room, and this can be provided by frequent sprinkling of walls and floor. An earth floor is preferred to concrete or wood for proper storage of apples.

TEACH CHILD PICKING UP TOYS IS PLEASANT TASK

When children spend more of their time playing indoors, there arises the problem of getting them to put toys away when they are through playing. Parents should remember that putting away toys is a habit that needs to be learned. Learning habits of neatness and orderliness is a slow process so parents will need to exercise the utmost patience in their teaching. It will help parents to be more tolerant if they realize that children don't put away their toys for the same reason that adults don't answer letters, keep accounts, or keep dresser drawers in order. It's a bother and other pursuits look more interesting.

The first duty of parents in successfully teaching children to put their toys away is to provide a place where the toys can be kept. Shelves are ideal for this; they should be low, easily accessible to the child, conveniently located, and large enough for all toys without crowding.

Often the experience of picking up toys is filled with emotional tensions and a feeling of annoyance for parents and the child. Parents will find themselves well-rewarded if they exercise patience and control and are careful not to expect too much of the child. At first parents will pick up all toys. Through this experience the child will get a feeling of orderliness and gradually with proper handling he can be brought into the activity. A child will cheerfully cooperate if he does not get the idea that picking up toys is an unpleasant task. It should not be used as a means of punishment.

WASHINGTON REPORT

And a dog that likes Klieg lights and can be companionable, too. By all means get a photogenic dog. One that can hold his own before the camera when sitting beside Winston Churchill or Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

Get a dog that enjoys public life. One that can be taught tricks. A lively dog with an interest in far away places. One that enjoys riding in bombers, warships and also sitting quietly on the back platforms of railroad trains during campaign stops.

A dog that can look intelligent at an educational conference and one that can bark in Russian. Or doze on a White House hearth while a fireside chat is being broadcast.

Let's see, now... What kind of a dog would that be? Why, a cocker spaniel, of course. There's a first-class dog. He's smart, he's cuddly. He has long ears that may occasionally close to the ground and are likewise photogenic.

Cocker Suggested
A cocker spaniel has a light-hearted attitude toward money which seems somehow to have become an asset in a chief executive. Why, a cocker—my cocker at least—thrives on money. Sandy chewed up and digested nine-tenths of a $20 bill the other day.

By all means, Dear Republican Committee, get yourself a cocker. Incidentally, or do I mean primarily, Representative Claire Luce has a cocker spaniel. You might borrow hers for the next month. No, I think the governor ought to have a permanent dog.

Here's an idea. A chance to inject that "light touch" to the campaign which everybody criticizes and wishes like the dickens he had himself. The idea?

Well... Spread some good publicity on whether a Scottie or a cocker would look better in the White House, making it clear in a subtle way that a cocker would be the better tenant. Offer a prize for the best name for the dog.

You might carry the idea a little further and say since human beings aren't the noble spirits they're supposed to be and since everybody, including the human beings themselves, is fed up on their hypocrites and stupidities—why not vote for a dog on Nov. 7. Make the thing a dog race.

Call this plan to the attention of the poll-takers. Make the query nationwide.

Oh, there are a thousand, a million, possibilities in the idea. Only get to work fast. Get the governor a campaign dog. Now! Today!

Drop of events of the last twelve years. Knowing the New Deal's fetish for piling one bureau upon another, shifting the personnel around to new jobs and then proclaiming a "reorganization" it is well to read the President's "pull" again. What, actually, does it promise?

It promises the liquidation of war agencies, but does not say which ones, and it multiplies much of this promise by instructions to reassign permanent or continuing functions to other bureaus. What are these "permanent" functions now handled by war agencies, and which are to be reassigned and continued?

It suggests a "reduction of government personnel to peace-time footing," but it doesn't say whether this is to be a real reduction or merely a return to the inflated, paternalistic payrolls of 1940.

It suggests "simplification and adaptation" of the administrative structure to peace-time requirements. The administrative structure has been "simplified" before during the last twelve years, but each time it emerges from this process the payroll goes up. There was nothing simple about this structure in 1940. It was a confusing welter of agencies, bureaus, commissions and so on the quarreling and bickering that is the natural result of such a helter-skelter structure has been growing in shrillness since the war began.

It sounds very much as though Mr. Roosevelt's "plan" was conceived in haste, in anticipation of an attack upon Bureaucracy by the Republican nominee.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

far more often had a college education than the young woman and far more frequently married a woman with less education. Social traditions naturally cause a young man with less formal education than a young woman he might marry or does marry, to feel more inferior, as a rule, than a woman. If the relative degree of academic education were reversed.

Girl's Salary Barrier
A similar barrier to the marriage of some bright young woman to a returning soldier will be the wages or salary she is earning. Often it will be far higher than those he will earn at first, causing him in many instances to avoid her. The average self-respecting young man will find it hard to imagine himself a contented, happy husband of a woman with far more formal education than he has or is likely soon to have or with a much bigger pay check. From the patriot's angle, these trends could cause him to marry beneath his normal level.

Keeping these psychological factors in mind, the smart young woman facing such probable barriers to marriage as we have observed, will be able, in some instances to shatter them by bringing out the best in the young man and helping him see values in his own talents, training and experiences not measured by the popular yardstick.

Army Discloses About 30,000 Are Returning Monthly

Maximum Number That Can Be Spared From Fighting Fronts,
It Is Declared

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. — The army, it was disclosed today, is currently returning about 30,000 soldiers a month to the United States from the fighting fronts—the maximum number which can be spared without delaying prosecution of the war.

This disclosure was made in a report of the legislative division of the army's office of chief of staff, which warned that "we simply do not have the men to increase substantially the number now being returned and at the same time to continue to prosecute the war vigorously to an early conclusion."

According to the report, roughly four to seven times the number of men being returned—or the equivalent of eight to 14 divisions—are immobilized overseas in order to give combat soldiers a furlough home.

"For every man we add to this number being returned, the army would lose the effective use of from four to seven additional soldiers," it was explained.

Members of the house military committee estimated that approximately 5,000 requests a month are made by congressmen to the army's legislative division for their constituents who are on duty overseas.

"In no instance can a soldier be assured that he will return as soon as he has served for a stated time," the report emphasized, explaining that service for the specified minimum period "only establishes the individual's eligibility to be considered for return within . . . limitations."

Military personnel who have been overseas for long periods may be returned to this country for rehabilitation, recuperation and recovery under the following three different situations, according to the report:

1. "Reduction in the size of our forces in areas where further threats from the enemy are not anticipated has permitted the return of some men."

2. "Others are being sent back to this country on temporary duty for a rest period, at the conclusion of which they are returned to their proper stations overseas," and

3. "Under the third situation, overseas personnel are returned to this country on rotation, which means that they are relieved of their overseas assignment and are reassigned to other duties after their return to this country."

Fail To Heed Sirens On Autos

Traffic policemen here are vexed because pedestrians and motorists fail to observe sirens of fire police and ambulance cars they report.

According to one officer, pedestrians disregard the sirens, likewise motorists.

Motorists are required to drive their cars to the right side of the roadway and permit the emergency cars to pass.

Jet-Ship Operation Explained By Army

Smooth-Flying Jet-Propelled Plane
Goes 400 Miles An Hour; Performs Well

WRIGHT FIELD, O., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Mystery no longer shrouds the army air forces new jet-propelled fighter plane as the air technical service command at Wright Field recently revealed the first detailed facts on the P-59.

In appearance the jet ship closely resembles any mid-wing fighter. The fuselage is slender, slightly more extended in the nose. The big difference is the missing propeller. Flight power comes from two closed thermal-jet engines set next to the fuselage one on each side, under the wing roots.

Operation of the thermal-jet engine is amazingly simple. The air intake duct is at the front of the engine. Rotary compressors—high-speed fans—force large quantities of air under pressure into the combustion chamber, where it is mixed with kerosene, and the mixture burned, the combustion causing constant high pressure. The tremendous force of the burning gases spins a turbine at high speed, whose power is utilized to drive the compressors. Then the jet itself is nozzled down for greater force and emerges as a stream of gas driving the airplane.

In operation, the P-59 runs so smoothly that a vibrator is installed on the instrument panel to keep the delicate needles functioning properly by eliminating "stickiness." Extremely fast, the fighter is rated so far at over 400 miles an hour and performs very well at high altitudes. Weighing better than five tons it has a span of 49 feet and carries four .50 caliber machine guns.

Air Transports Move 20,000 Since Spring

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 17.—(INS)—The 20,000th patient to be evacuated by the ferrying division of air transport command within the continental United States was a 19-year-old private, veteran of St. Lo, where he was wounded by eight pieces of shrapnel from an 88 mm shell which struck just three feet from his foxhole.

Flown from England in a huge C-54 plane to Mitchell field, New York, Pvt. Adam J. Cline was then taken to Kennedy general hospital, Memphis, Tenn. About 175 miles from his home at Centerville.

Mass movement of war wounded was begun by the ferrying division May 16, 1944, when a convoy of 37 ambulances arrived at Newark, N. J., airport bringing 205 patients from Halloran general hospital on Staten Island, N. Y. These evacuation flights are designed to move battle casualties as closely as possible to their homes for convalescence and treatment.

Offers Own Service When Four Sons Die

Bereaved Ohio Man Leaves For Hawaiian Air Depot; Daughter
Has Joined WAC

DAYTON, O., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Sacrifice of his four sons in this war wasn't enough for Percy Nelson of the Fairfield air service command supply division.

The middle-aged man, living at the Patterson field civilian housing center, left recently to help smash the Japs as a civilian employee of the Hawaiian air depot.

Two of his sons, Charles and Allen, are buried in Hawaii. Both were chief petty officers in the navy when they were killed in the Jap sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Set Frank Nelson, another son, died with an infantry unit at Guadalcanal. The fourth, Edgar, was slain by the enemy at Salerno's beachhead battle.

Nelson's daughter, Betty, is a WAC in California. The father has been at the nearby airfield for 26 months, working there after serving as a chief traffic clerk with the FASC 843d specialized depot at Columbus.

Nelson, himself, served with the infantry in the Spanish-American war, with the cavalry in the Philippine insurrection and Boxer rebellion in China and then rounded out his service record with a hitch in the navy, which included participation in the Vera Cruz battle.

Big Rush Monday At Local Post Office

During Month, 6400 Christmas Packages Were Sent To Armed Forces Overseas

Mahoningtown post office was certainly a busy place on Monday, according to Eddie McBride, superintendent. Monday being the last day for mailing Christmas packages to those in service overseas, there was a big rush by patrons to get under the wire.

Ed says the rush was quite heavy all day until 5:30 in the evening, when it began to wane; the office was open until about 8 o'clock. He thinks they were busier than at Christmas time.

Soldier Brothers Meet In Belgium

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nickum, of 1006 North Ashland avenue, from their son, Pfc. James Nickum, attached to the Medical Corps, that he had met his brother, Private Robert Nickum, of the Ordnance Corps, both being stationed somewhere in Belgium.

James heard that his brother Robert was near his outfit, and asked his lieutenant to help locate him. Going over one day to see his brother, he found that he was out delivering rations, and was entertained there until his return. Getting back, Robert went to the wash room. When in the midst of washing his face, his brother appeared, and gave him quite a surprise. Robert shouted to his buddies, "Here's my brother", and there was a warm reunion.

The brothers were together prior to that time, while on furlough together here in July 1943. James has been overseas since November 1943, and Robert in January, 1944.

Pfc. James Nickum took part in the D-day invasion, and fifteen days later, Pvt. Robert Nickum, landed in France.

Paper Collection Here Saturday

Salvage Collection Of Paper
Planned For New Castle
And Environs

Before you forget it better mark a ring around Saturday October 21. That's Waste Paper Collection Day in New Castle and the adjoining townships. The day when you can aid the war effort, help the Boy and Girl Scouts and get rid of a lot of waste paper that has been collecting in your home since the last paper collection.

If paper wasn't needed the collection wouldn't be put on. It isn't any fun to any of the workers or the truck owners to take half of a Saturday to gather the paper. It isn't any fun to the men and boys on the trucks or in the box cars. It's hard work but they are willing to do it to help the war effort. Your share is in furnishing the paper.

Bundle It Securely
All kinds of paper are needed. Old newspapers, old magazines, old wrapping paper, paper bags, card board, anything made of paper. Millions of containers are needed to ship ammunition, blood plasma, etc. for service men and women. Foodstuffs, these and two hundred thousand other items have to be shipped in paper products, cartons.

Bundle your newspapers separately from the magazines. Tie them securely to prevent their breaking open and have them on the curb in front of your home Saturday morning early. No matter if you have only a pound or two. Get it bundled and out on the curb.

The need for paper products is desperate. It's immediate. Truck owners are donating trucks, men and boys are donating time, all you need to do is donate the waste paper that clutters up your home.

Remember the day, Saturday October 21. Get your paper out on to the curb early Saturday morning.

Justice Hughes

Hits New Deal

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Justice Howard W. Hughes of Washington predicted today that a New Deal victory in the November 7 general election would mean "a superstate socialization of our industries and iron-fisted regimentation of our lives."

"The freedom the people to work, save, produce and consume has been gradually taken away under the cloak of war measures," said the Republican candidate for a 21-year term.

"Unless they repudiate the New Deal on November 7 we are all going to live planned lives in peace time, subject to more of the insufferable bunting and ruminating which has been part and parcel of Mr. Roosevelt's government," he declared.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania highway safety committee will meet at Harrisburg today with representatives of schools and motor clubs to outline the state's postwar safety program.

"We will discuss several phases of safety education including pedestrian safety, classroom driver training instruction and behind-the-wheel driver training," said Chairman Paul L. Representatives of the state police, revenue, highways and public instruction departments comprise the committee which studies traffic problems, operation of school patrols and disseminates safety information.

Sessions In Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—(INS)—The possibility of drafting a statewide postwar housing blue print designed to ease an acute shortage of living quarters will be outlined tonight to members attending the 67th annual meeting and the postwar mobilization conference of the Pennsylvania Savings and Loan League at Harrisburg.

John H. Fahey, of Washington, D. C., commissioner of the home loan bank administration, was slated to discuss the housing shortage and review the possibilities of releasing materials for home construction as well as the distribution of savings compounded by the public.

The two-day meeting, which opened today, was slated to be high-lighted tomorrow night by a discussion of home and business loans granted discharged servicemen and women under the so-called "GI" bill of rights.

SEES FARM VOTE

GOING TO DEWEY

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst was of the opinion today that Pennsylvania farmers will back the Dewey-Briker slate "because they demand relief from regimentation and an opportunity to get a fair return above costs of production without the use of tax-building subsidies."

"Our farmers are handicapped from too much regimentation," Horst declared at a political rally at Schneeksville, near Allentown, last night.

"They want production and prices on levels of consumer supply and demand, and it will be the future task of government and agricultural leaders and organizations to make every effort toward an early return to that basis," Horst asserted.

An Announcement of interest to every motor car owner

When the war is decisively won—and gasoline restrictions are lifted . . .

SUNOCO DYNAFUEL

MADE SPECIALLY FOR AUTOMOBILES

will be the name of Sun Oil Company's new postwar fuel for motor cars

The end of gasoline rationing may still be a long way off

Bomb raids over Germany must be continued until the Nazis surrender unconditionally. Then activities in the Pacific must be increased to speed up Victory against the Japs. Large quantities of petroleum will be required.

While the supply of civilian gasoline may be increased after the defeat of Germany, a considerable time may elapse before the demands of the armed forces will permit conversion of aviation fuel plants to the making of civilian gasoline.

Improved motor fuel made possible
by wartime discoveries

Early in the war, through the development of new processes and plants, the engineers of Sun Oil Company produced the concentrate, Dynafuel, which has so materially increased the quality and quantity of our aviation gasoline. When military demands cease, these same advanced Sun Oil Company refineries will be converted to the manufacture of a new and greatly improved automobile fuel . . . and the name Sunoco Dynafuel will then be applied to this postwar product.

Postwar Sunoco Dynafuel will be designed especially for automobiles

When the war is decisively won and gasoline restrictions are lifted—then Sunoco Dynafuel will be a super powered fuel designed especially for use in automobiles—by far the finest motor car fuel we have ever made.

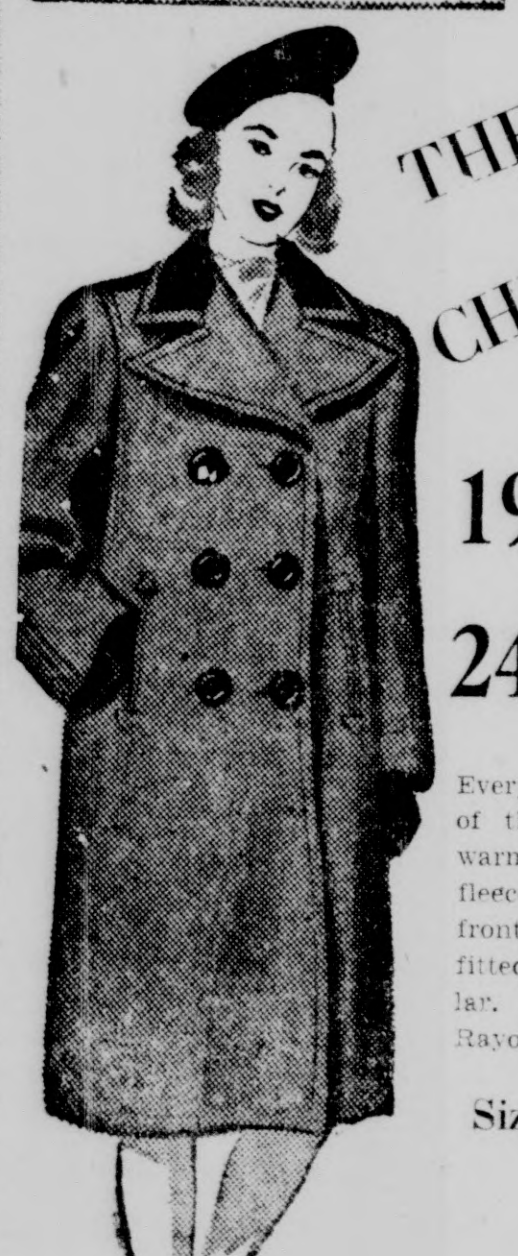

Remember that name Sunoco Dynafuel. Some day when you are again able to drive into your Sunoco station and say "fill 'er up" you're going to experience the greatest driving thrills you ever had.

NEW CASTLE declares a PAPER HOLIDAY

PAPER IS ONE OF THE MOST CRITICAL SHORTAGES FACING OUR ARMED FORCES TODAY

At no time in the progress of this world conflict, nor in the history of our country, has the shortage of paper been so acute. To send MORE paper to the fighting front, we must use LESS paper on the home front. To help conserve paper in New Castle, a Paper Holiday has been declared, beginning immediately and continuing for the duration of the paper shortage. The retail stores of New Castle have pledged to co-operate in this vital war campaign.

IT'S UP TO YOU WOMEN OF NEW CASTLE TO MAKE THE PAPER HOLIDAY A BIG SUCCESS

Surely New Castle will do its part in the country's all-out effort to solve the critical paper shortage. From now, on, you should not expect your retail store to use paper except for articles that require wrapping for sanitary and protective purposes. Carry your own shopping bags and baskets to your store or market. Tell the clerks not to wrap your parcels. You are a good soldier on the home front when you march down the street carrying unwrapped parcels. An unwrapped parcel is a badge of merit.

Let's save paper by not using wrapping paper, bags or cartons unless it is absolutely necessary . . . Let's make the New Castle Paper Holiday a huge success . . .

LET'S SHOW THE NATION
WHAT WE CAN DO!

EXCEPTIONS To Paper Holiday

Food Stores:—

All unpacked foods which, for reasons of health must be protected from air, dust and dirt.

Drug Stores:—

Only those unpacked articles, medicines and confections which for reasons of health and sanitation must be wrapped.

Dry Goods:—

Yard goods and trimmings which would be soiled carried unwrapped. Underwear and intimate personal items.

Many articles such as shoes, window shades, curtain material, etc., etc. should be merely tied with a string.

Hardware:—

Loose items subject to loss if unpacked. Putty, sharp edged tools and oiled tools or fittings.

Stationery & Sundries:—

Items which might be damaged by casual soil.

Clothing Stores:—

Intimate personal items and decorative items for dress wear subject to soil and damage.

Shoe Stores:—

Hosiery only.

WHAT THE WAR PRODUCTION BOARD HAS TO SAY ABOUT PAPER:

"From the day a soldier goes to war, he is dependent on paper. From his draft card to his honorable discharge, his records are kept on it.

"His records are packed in it; his cartridges are wrapped in it; his shoes are lined with it; his letters are written on it.

"His barracks are built with paper wall-board, paper roofing, paper insulation.

"He shoots at paper targets, eats from paper plates, drinks from paper cups.

"His battles are planned, his orders are issued, on paper.

"Literally, he lives, trains, travels and fights, with paper as his indispensable ally.

"And, of course, his 'honorable discharge' will be handed to him on a piece of paper — after a beaten Axis has signed the peace terms — on paper!"

Says Communists Planning To Take Over Democrats

Rep. Clare Boothe Luce Of Connecticut Makes Charges In Pittsburgh Address

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—(INS)—The direct charge that a "small group of Communists have laid plans to take over the Democratic party" after November 7 was made today by Rep. Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut.

"The Communist party already calls itself the American Labor party in New York state," Mrs. Luce told a Republican rally last night. "After November 7 it hopes to call itself the Democratic party in every state. That is the way the Communist party has 'dissolved' upon directions from Moscow. It has gone underground, after the fashion of terrorists, into the Democratic party."

Mrs. Luce said election of Thomas S. Dewey would put an end to "efforts of the administration and Stoney Hillman to make political zombies of American labor." "It is Mr. Hillman's idea that the basic political unit is not an individual citizen," Mrs. Luce continued. "But a collective group to be voted like heads of cattle according to orders from above without any reference to the individual preferences of the members."

She described the CIO-Political Action committee as "Hitlerian in concept" with the "philosophy of Karl Marx." "It is Nazi German sauerkraut with Soviet Russian dressing," she added.

Senator Truman Urges President Be Kept In Office

Democratic Vice Presidential Candidate Speaks At Los Angeles, California

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Senator Harry S. Truman concluding his campaigning in southern California, left with voters today a plea that they return President Roosevelt to office "simply because he is better qualified in conducting the war."

Speaking last night to a capacity crowd at the Shrine auditorium, the Democratic vice presidential nominee pictured his runningmate as an experienced leader and a man of courage and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as a "doubting Thomas" without confidence or conviction.

"No man is indispensable," the candidate conceded, taking the Republicans up on one of the main challenges they have hurled at the president.

"The question before us is not whether the president is indispensable or even whether the Republican party has better men. The question is simply whether the president is the better qualified—and it is easy enough to answer that question."

General Is Prisoner, Butler Family Hears

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 17.—Husband of a former Butler woman, Brig. Gen. Arthur W. Vanaman of Millville, N. J., is now reported a prisoner of war in Germany after being missing since last June.

Brig. Gen. Vanaman has just been awarded the Legion of Merit award for his work as commander of air depots in Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Garraway of Butler.

MAN IS INJURED
Keith Huffman, aged 27 years, of 206 1/2 South Ray street, was treated for a laceration over the left eye at the Jameson Memorial hospital at four o'clock this morning.

ARMY CHAPLAIN SPEAKS OF WORK

Lt. Col. William F. O'Brien of Deshon Hospital Addresses Rotary, Kiwanis Clubs

Lt. Col. William F. O'Brien, chaplain at Deshon general hospital at Butler, told members of the New Castle Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at their noon luncheon meeting in the Castleton Monday noon that he has found that soldiers are reverent and respectful. He also stated that attendance at religious services in the army is better than in the churches back home.

Chaplain O'Brien, whose home is in Texarkana, Tex., has been in service for several years, and in that time has come in contact with thousands of American soldiers. He says the men returning from the battle fronts are looking for a personal friend when they get back and that is what the chaplains in the service try to be.

He spoke of the many requests from the men to have someone to whom they can unburden themselves and to come for advice. His observation is that it is wonderful to live in a country like ours, which places so much emphasis on religion.

He stated that Rabbi Leo E. Turner of Temple Israel is one of his aides at Deshon hospital and is doing a fine work among the men of Jewish faith.

The Kiwanis club members, who gave up their regular meeting this week because of the Baptist Ministerial convention here, were special guests of the Rotary club for this meeting.

Guests of both the clubs from Deshon hospital annex here were Pvt. Harry Dilley of Denver, Colo.; Sgt. Pat J. Mozic of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Sgt. Robert A. Johnston, Pa.; and Sgt. Blake Kroh of Brookville.

One out of 20 steelworkers who have joined the armed services since 1940 are already back at work. Of the total of 14,100 ex-servicemen who now are employed in the steel industry, most are former steelworkers.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling and burning sensations of the skin, for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend
Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Our thanks to a Country Editor

You get a pretty good view of the world from a small-town newspaper office. Sometimes you see things that other folks overlook. For instance, this frank statement by the editor of The Dierks (Arkansas) Banner:

The Banner is one of the last papers in the country to raise its subscription price, many over the U. S. having done so a year or more ago. The cost of practically everything that goes into the production of a newspaper has advanced, except electricity used in running the plant. In normal times there was little if any profit in subscriptions at $1.00 a year. If the information contained in even a 4-page country newspaper published weekly, 52 times a year, isn't worth $1.50 to the subscriber, it has no valid reason for existence.

We're grateful to the editor for pointing out a fact more and more people are realizing—that at a time when most things are scarce and expensive, electricity is still plentiful and cheap.

That just goes to show what companies like ours can do for you by hard work and experience and sound business management.

Frequent or scanty passages with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney aches flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

PLATOON SERGT. FRANKIE MORAN, infantry, is home on a 15-day furlough from Halloran hospital, Staten Island. He was transferred there when a hurricane struck Atlantic City where he was hospitalized. He expects to be returned to the seashore hospital soon. He was in a very optimistic mood today because his right arm, wounded at St. Lo, France, is mending nicely. He is able to use his elbow slightly. Several of his fingers are yet stiff, but he remarked: "Wait until my arm and fingers mend and the trouble is over and I'll be able to stop a lot of more boys in the ring." Frankie was thoughtful a moment, then added: "Look at Tommy Bell. He's in the big money and so is Berle. I defeated both. Maybe my day is coming." Moran explained that since he entered the army he has given considerable thought to his future civilian life. "When I boxed around here I did not train right. Usually, I went like a house afire for a round or two then tired. This was because I did not train properly. I realize now what training does for a fellow. When I leave the army and return to boxing I'm going to train faithfully."

Met with Owen Fox, local naturalist today. He gave us a word picture of a Mercer County swamp where wild cranberries grow and picture flowers about, even in winter time. He remarked that a hiker bogs down half a foot traversing the swamp but "if you know your swamp you won't bog any farther." He described how the wild cranberries, there since the days of the Redskin, grow, one to a plant. Relative to what he called picture flowers, he said a person could pick up a snow and ice and find them as beautiful as ever. He also talked of cotton grass and some day were going to accompany Fox on one of his jaunts.

Paul McCullough did not pitch for the International Association of Machinists Sunday after the writer had been advised by I. A. M. Committeeman Art Dalglish to that effect. What caused his non-appearance isn't known to the writer. . . . The Johnsons Bronze blanked the I. A. M. 8-0. Next Sunday the teams are carded for a twin bill. However, should the Diffeymen win the first game the City Baseball League pennant will fly from the Johnsons. . . . Larry Atkins, hustling matchmaker for Bob Brickman's Arena in Cleveland writes that he has matched Joe Carter against Lloyd Marshall in a heavyweight bout and Freddie Archer, No. 2 welterweight, against Chuck Hunter of Cleveland in Cleveland, Wednesday night.

They say he is a disciple of Father Divine and an advocate of peace but, it would be difficult to make any of the past 16 opponents of Saint Thomas, Dayton, O., believe he is peaceful in the ring. Fourteen of the fights ended in a kavo. The Saint is 24 years old. . . . Frankie Brimsek, star goalie of the Boston Bruins, pro ice hockey club, is in the Coast Guard, somewhere in the South Pacific. . . . Big league scouts combing the Ohio State League give vent to enthusiasm when they cross the trail of Ned Garver, 18-year-old hurler for the Newark Mounties. That's all they can do about it, for the youngster belongs to Toledo of the American Association, which means he is headed for the St. Louis Browns.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Mayor LaGuardia of New York is a hot crusader of the old school who, verbally, operates along the knock-'em-down-and-drag-'em-out principle and whose greatest hatred apparently is reserved for gambling and gamblers. His passionate rage over the existence of race tracks is such that it has made his thinking on the subject somewhat oblique, if not absolutely askew.

There is no doubt that race tracks anywhere have an unhealthy quota of violence which would adopt grave sobbing for a provision if it paid enough. There is also no doubt that the customer is always wrong at a race track (particularly in New York), and that hundreds of people who absolutely cannot afford it go broke at tracks every day.

However, Mayor LaGuardia's honest fury apparently has led him to believe that a race track is an octopus which reaches out and scoops into its maw thousands of citizens who are flung headlong into the senseless whirl of gambling.

Mayor On Radio
"Well," sighed the mayor Sunday over the city-owned ether, "I suppose all of you read the story of the bank clerk who walked into the district attorney's office last week and gave himself up. . . . he was several thousand dollars short in his accounts. Yes, oh, I know, you know what I am going to say—the dirty, thieving, thimble-ringers got his money, those thimble-ringers. There was a family ruined. Yes, it all started off with a $2 bet, and then, of course, he tried to make up and the $2 bet . . . went

BETTINA KAYOES THOMAS IN THIRD

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Comp. Mello Bettina, Beacon, N. Y. former lightweight champion, chalked up his fourth victory today following his third round knockout of Tommy Reed, known in Father Divine's heaven as St. Thomas.

Bettina, at 190, pounded the 204-pound Negro from the first bell in their scheduled 10-round windup at Philadelphia Convention Hall last night and had the 6183 fans on their feet yelling when, with 16 seconds gone in the third stanza, he dropped Thomas for the count. Sammy Parrotto, 132-pound Pittsburgher, made an inauspicious debut in Philadelphia, undergoing bruising punishment in losing a decision to Dorsey Lay of Philadelphia, for the semi-final.

Perry To Play Here On Friday

Pittsburgh School Will Appear On Taggart Stadium For First Time

A brand new opponent in the uniform of Perry High of Pittsburgh will appear at Taggart stadium Friday night for the seventh game of the 1944 season against New Castle High "Red Hurricane." The kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

Never before has this school opposed New Castle in any kind of sport. Little is known of the strength of this team except that it has won its last three games in Section 2 in Pittsburgh, defeating Oliver 20 to 7 and Fifth Avenue High 32 to 0, which would indicate something of an offense.

Locals Seek Victory

Perry can be expected to bring a fine team here and one that will give the New Castle boys a real tussle. Whether or not Bill "Misery" Walls will be in shape for the Perry game is problematic. He has a knee injury and may not get in until the Clairton battle. In the meantime Jim Garberry seemed to do all right last night in the short time he worked at fullback and may get another crack at this spot this week.

There is a slim possibility that Panella the left-half may get in the Clairton game or Aliquippa game if his doctor gives him the green-light. His leg is mending nicely.

New Castle is looking ahead to the possibility of jumping Perry High here this week, to shake off the losing jinx that has followed them ever since the powerful Youngstown East team played here.

Pitt Prepares To Battle Illinois

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Pitt's Panthers, still a little loose at the seams from their pasting at the hands of Army today were preparing for next Saturday's invasion by the Illinois Orange and Blue.

Slaughtiness's grid men were exposed to a series of Illinois plays, brought back by Stan Olen, assistant coach who scored Illinois games with Purdue and Iowa. Most of these plays, Olen said, depend upon tremendous speed and excellent timing for proper execution.

State Is Preparing To Battle Colgate

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 17.—Penn State and Colgate, opponents in football at Hamilton, N. Y., Saturday, have met on the gridiron seven times since 1911. Penn State's only two victories were scored in 1911 and 1942.

Until the Lions stopped the Raiders by a 13-10 score in 1942, Penn State had never defeated a Colgate team coached by Andy Kerr. Last year, the two teams fought to a 0-0 draw here. This was the only tie game in the series.

Arnold And Padlo Sign For Battle
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Billy Arnold, Philadelphia's last Test knockout sensation, and Max Padlo, also of the Quaker City, were scheduled today to meet in a 10-round bout at the Philadelphia Arena on Monday night, Oct. 30.

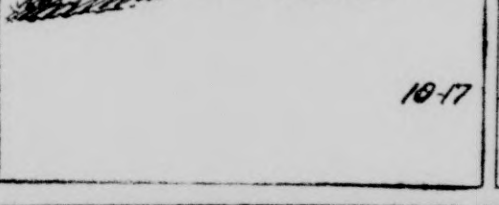

Arnold, who has scored 24 knockouts in 26 consecutive victories, meets his severest test against the hard hitting Padlo, the latter kofed George Williams of Baltimore in the sixth round of his last bout.

RESUME GRID SERIES
Penn State and Syracuse met in football every year from 1922 through 1942. The two meet again this year after a two-year lapse caused by Syracuse's withdrawal from the sport.

WINNING WAYS
Penn State has won more than 100 of the 135 soccer games it has played since Bill Jeffrey took command in 1926.

Ellwood Preps For Aliquippa

Undefeated And Untied Wolverines Face Severest Test This Friday Night

(Special To The News)
ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 17.—Ellwood City High football team will face its severest test of the 1944 season this coming Friday night by battling the strong Aliquippa High team at Lincoln field. The kickoff will occur at 8 o'clock.

Coach Howard Gill, and his assistant, Ted Wallace, have their work cut out this week, getting the Wolverines ready for the Friday engagement. With six straight wins under the belt, four of them in class AA, three in Beaver country's championship race, the Wolverines face this coming game with calm reserve. Ellwood must win this one to stay in the picture.

In Fine Shape
Ellwood enters the Aliquippa game in the best of condition. No serious injuries have cropped out in recent games. Dale Tilla, the big fullback, is in shape again and rarin' to go. Billy McClintick held scoreless in the Beaver game, hoping to break out in a rash of scores again this week, and pass his closest rival, Dick Scherbaum of Beaver, who has 60 points to his credit. McClintick has scored 54 points.

Aliquippa lost to Ambridge last week in a heart-breaker 7 to 6 and will seek to bounce back this week against the sensational Ellwood team.

BILLY MILLER IS LOSER TO WILLIS

Pittsburgh Veteran Loses In Detroit Battle, Ossie Harris Is Kayed

DETROIT, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Leroy Willis, Detroit featherweight, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Billy Miller of Pittsburgh and Simpson Powell of Cleveland knocked out Ossie (Zollog) Harris, Pittsburgh middleweight, in the third round in spectacular upsets that topped the inaugural show staged by the new Arena Boxing club last night.

A capacity crowd of 5,000 roaring fans paid a gross of $7,089 to see a card checkful of action.

Willis, who weighed 127 pounds against Miller's 129, carried the fight most of the way to his more experienced rival.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

By JACK WELCH

ANTICIPATING RINGNECKS
This is great fishing country, good duck country if conditions are right and the beaver, deer, grouse and other wild creatures that flourish here combine to make it most intriguing from an outdoorsman's point of view. But there's one big void in the picture.

There are no pheasants in the region, and what's a fall without a pheasant to a hunter who rates the only ringneck as close to tops in game birds? But the pheasant season doesn't open for some time and when it does I'll try to be in ringneck country with a few precious shells, attempting to halt the flight of a few old roosters that flush with derisive cackles over my marksmanship.

Conditions Spotty
In the meantime, in some parts of the country where there is an earlier opening, sports hunters will be experiencing spotty sport, if predictions of state conservation authorities are borne out. In many places wet weather forced setting hen pheasants to desert their nests before the eggs hatched, or floods washed out the nests entirely. Pheasants often make a second or third nesting attempt, so in such flooded areas it's very likely that some young, undeveloped birds will be among those to greet the opening-day hunter.

In at least one region with which I'm familiar the law permitted the taking of too many hens last fall, with the result that the harvest this year will be smaller and harder to reap. Hens have been put on the protected list again in most regions. I believe this is well justified except in areas where the shooting of a few hens more or less won't have any bearing on the future situation.

No. 6 For Pheasants
I recall with some regret and not a little bewilderment my last pheasant hunt of 1943. Birds flushed freely for a region where they were rather on the scarce side and I succeeded in missing most of them, though I'd been congratulating myself on my marksmanship up to that time. Maybe it was by way of taking me down a peg. Or, searching for an alibi, I could put the blame on some flat-topped uncrimped trap loads that didn't seem to pattern as they should.

Anyway, I couldn't connect that morning and a heavy snow and sheet storm put an end about noon to an unsuccessful hunt. Most hunters, including myself, prefer No. 6 shot for pheasants, but some pin their hopes on No. 7s or 7 1/2s on the theory that a shot in the head is worth half a dozen in the body of a bird as hard to down as a ringneck and the more shot the more chances of landing one in the chest.

This fall you won't have much choice anyway, prospects are at this writing. I believe anything larger than 6s in a 12-gauge run handicaps the hunter. When I hunt 'em with my 20-gauge I use 7 1/2s.

Pvt. Ryglinski Is Real 'Iron Man' Fritzie Zivic Loser In Bout

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 17.—(INS)—Tommy Roman of Bayonne, N. J., stationed at Barkdale Field, won a decision from Fritzie Zivic former welterweight champion last night at a boxing show in Shreveport.

The bout was hard fought and Zivic could charge his defeat partly to foul punches which cost him two rounds. Both men weighed in at 152 pounds.

Preparing For Inter-Club Shoots
Inter-club matches and qualification shooting will consume most of the evening when the Revolver club meets tonight at the Cathedral range. A shoot is to be held with the Youngstown police and Sharon industrial police in the near future, and those of the local club who desire to participate should be present.

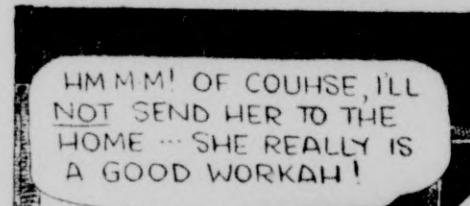

Former New Castle High Track Star Sets Half-Mile Record At Scott Field

SCOTT FIELD III, Oct. 17.—When they talk about "endurance" at the Scott Field Army Air Forces Training Command radio school today, they mention Pvt. Lee "Iron Man" Ryglinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ryglinski of 1704 Morris street, New Castle, Pa.

Ryglinski, entered by Section N in the semi-annual track and field meet held here as part of the physical training program for future radiomen, did a little distance running.

In one morning he only did this: Won the half-mile event, shaving off two-tenths of a second from the record mark of two minutes, 9.5 seconds he set up in the spring; won the mile event with a time of five minutes, two seconds; and won the two mile event in 11 minutes, 26 seconds.

Bessemer Hopes To Win Friday

Must Defeat Zelienople To Stay In Running For Tri-County Championship

(Special To The News)
BESSEMER, Oct. 17.—Bessemer High football team, undaunted by the 19 to 13 setback handed them by the strong Hopewell High team, will prepare to meet an even stronger foe this Friday afternoon—Zelienople High, in a game at Bessemer. The kickoff has been scheduled for three o'clock.

Bessemer must win this important game to stay in the running for Tri-County league championship honors. Bessemer is the only Lawrence county school that has a chance for the title this season, in the league's first year.

Bessemer at Peak
Zelienople ran into a Tartar last week, winning by the scantiest of points, 7 to 0, over a hard fighting and courageous Union High eleven. Zelienople faces a tough foe in Bessemer, and Coach Joe Weresuk and his charges will be at top peak for this engagement.

The loss of Rocco Mittica, the sterling young guard, to the Army will be keenly felt in Bessemer. Mittica ended his scholastic career for the duration last week in the Hopewell game and distinguished himself in every play. His place will be taken by Liverine, a capable sub who has replaced Mittica all season at various times and knows the guard job well. Bessemer is working out daily on the Bessemer field and will be ready for the best game of the season this coming Friday afternoon.

Reynolds To Have Basketball Team
Camp Reynolds Floor Team Will Again Compete In Third Service Command League

GREENVILLE, Pa., Oct. 17.—Camp Reynolds will enter a team in the Third Service Command basketball league which now is being formed. Lt. John J. Berman, camp athletic director, announced today.

The service command has been divided into seven areas for the forthcoming cage campaign. Camp Reynolds and Deshon Hospital are the only two representatives in the Western Pennsylvania area.

A total of 33 camps comprise the seven districts, with the Western Virginia and the Baltimore area having the largest number of teams, seven each.

In addition to playing in the service command circuit, the Camp Reynolds team will be booked against outstanding college and industrial quintets of the section.

From last seasons outstanding squad there will be only one performer back. The cage veteran is Sgt. Bob Campbell, six-foot-three-inch forward who starred at Manhattan during his collegiate days.

Will Watch Tanner
But regardless of the records, it will be a battle all the way and a big crowd will doubt, be on hand for the kickoff. Shenango hopes to win this one, as they have Bessemer yet to play and have a chance for the county title, where as Union has lost to Bessemer and is out of the running. Coach Pat Patterson may have a few tricks up his sleeve for the Shenango fuss.

Coach Eddie Nahas is banking on his star, Charles Tanner, to bring Shenango through to a victory. Tanner is perhaps one of the finest schoolboy griders in western Pennsylvania and will be a marked man in this contest.

BOMBS HIT HOMES OF SALVATION ARMY
PITTSBURGH.—(INS)—Several Salvation Army institutions were accidentally destroyed and numerous casualties resulted when Allied planes recently bombed Berlin and Hamburg. Commissioner Karl Larsson, head of the Salvation Army in Sweden, disclosed.

Larsson, who has begun a six month lecture tour of the United States, declared that Sweden is caring for 25,000 Norwegian refugees, 40,000 Finnish children, and 3,000 Estonians.

The 76-year-old commissioner predicted a world-wide religious revival following the war, based upon increased church attendance in occupied countries.

The Salvation Army still is active in Nazi-occupied Europe. Larsson said, but in France and Holland it carries on under a different name and under close restrictions.

THIS FAMILY REUNION WAS REALLY ENJOYED
PORTAGE, Pa.—(INS)—Miss Ruth Berkau, 19, of Portage township in Cambria county, met her brother, Fred, 39, for the first time at a family reunion at Detroit. The Berkau clan, consisting of 10 children, assembled after a 21-year separation.

Union-Shenango Tangle Friday
East New Castle Excited Over Coming Battle On Friday Afternoon

East New Castle is excited this week. It's Union High vs. Shenango this coming Friday afternoon at the Shenango High field, and that means a football battle. The kickoff will take place at 2:15 o'clock.

Union and Shenango enter their final contest with just fair records to date; each has won one game and tied one. Union has defeated Poland and tied with Evans City, with four losses, to Ellwood, Bessemer, Zelienople, and Mars. Shenango tied Freedom, won from Evans City and lost to Hopewell, Zelienople and Mars.

But regardless of the records, it will be a battle all the way and a big crowd will doubt, be on hand for the kickoff. Seek To Sell New League To People Of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—A campaign by the State Department to "sell" the American public on the new League of Nations was begun today when representatives of nearly 100 national organizations met with Under Secretary Edward Stettinius.

Stettinius announced at a news conference that he would meet with the group during the afternoon in a discussion of the new international security organization which was created by representatives of the "Big Four" powers at the recent Dumbarton Oaks parley.

The groups range from the American Federation of Labor to the American Bar Association and have been brought together under the heading of "Americans United for World Organization." Dr. Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth College, is chairman of the new organization.

Should Be Debated

The State Department, in making known the results of the Dumbarton Oaks conference, said that before the "Big Four" agreement is sent to the senate for ratification it should be treated to a thorough public scrutiny and debate.

Stettinius dodged a question at his news conference which observers regard as the crux of the whole Dumbarton Oaks plan.

He refused to say it was desirable for the American delegate on the security council to have authority to commit America's quota of military forces without referring each issue to congress.

Stettinius said that the public debate which has been invited should express its opinion on this point before the government commits itself.

Privately, government officials have acknowledged that the new peace organization will be ineffective in putting down aggression unless the automatic use of the American forces can be assured.

But no American official, either at the White House or the State Department has been willing to say publicly that this authority is desired. It was expected, however, that such a statement will be made after the elections are over.

Give It As Fast As They Can Take It, Professor Advocates

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 17.—(INS)—A plan designed to speed the education of servicemen was advocated today by Dr. C. C. Peters of the Pennsylvania State college, who said that college academic degrees should be awarded on the basis of attainment rather than time requirements.

According to Dr. Peters, who is director of educational research at Penn State, student should be awarded a degree as soon as he has successfully passed a series of comprehensive examinations, whether he has been attending college for two months or two years.

"Colleges," he said, "must devise a practical way to treat servicemen. Educators must realize that the boys who come back will have knocked about over the world, will possess a new maturity, and will know what they want."

Under this plan, he explained, students would be given an opportunity to utilize the general and specific education which they have received while in service.

The old system, involving credit and time-in-residence requirements, should be retained, he said, for students who prefer it. However, he predicted many veterans will balk at the old mechanical routine and insist upon education as fast as they can take it.

Florida Shipping Warned Of Storm

Florida Peninsula, Gulf Of Mexico And Caribbean Area In For Heavy Gale

MIAMI Fla., Oct. 17.—(INS)—The current Caribbean hurricane, marked by gales in excess of 100 miles an hour at its center, was described today as wandering about "listlessly" in the neighborhood of Cuba as if not quite determined in which direction to proceed.

The Miami weather bureau, however, reported there was some evidence that the storm may be traveling slowly northwest or northward. Such a course, accompanied by a gradual acceleration of wind velocity, would seriously affect western Cuba, the southeast Gulf of Mexico and possibly the Florida peninsula within the next 24 hours, the weather bureau said.

An advisory said the storm continued to offer a serious threat to the Yucatan peninsula and Honduras and warned that shipping within a 600-mile radius should exercise caution and stand by for further advice.

Storm warnings were displayed on the Florida keys and most small craft on the Florida east and west coasts were held in port.

Sedition Trials To Be Continued

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Chief Justice Edward Eicher on Monday overruled several motions to delay or end the mass sedition trial because of a reference to the "silver shirts" by President Roosevelt in his political address Oct. 5.

William Dudley Pelley, one of the 26 sedition trial defendants, was the leader of the "Silver Shirts", an organization which Mr. Roosevelt said was on "the lunatic fringe."

Twelve defense attorneys presented a motion for a mistrial, one petitioned that Justice Eicher be replaced, another moved for a direct verdict and a final motion was made that the trial be put over until after election.

Justice Eicher said he had "given careful consideration to all of these motions and does not desire to hear any further arguments regarding them." He said that "the order of the court will be that each and all motions under consideration are overruled."
